Y. P. B. CONFERENCE TWO WEEKS IN JUNE

ANNUAL GATHERING WILL BRING
LARGE NUMBER OF YOUNG
WOMEN TO CORONADO JUNE
1ST TO 15TH.

Arrangements are being carried on at this time by the members of the New Smyrna Young People's Band for the state conference, which will be held at Coronado beginning June 1 and continuing for two weeks to June 15. This will be the first state convention or conference to be held at New Smyrna for several years, and it is expected the conference will bring the largest attendance of any that has ever been held.

Since it was decided to hold the conference at Coronado the members of the local Y. P. B. have been making the necessary arrangements and preparations for the conference. The Barber House has been leased for the two weeks and the conference sessions will be held in the Methodist church near by. All state officers and superintendents are expected to be in attendance and delegates will be here from practically every local band in the state.

Each morning from 9:30 to 10:30 o'clock will be the bible hour, conducted by Mrs. Mable Quam-Stevens, state W. C. T. U. evangelist; 10:30 to 11 there will be addresses by Miss Minnie E. Neal, state president of the W. C. T. U., and other state workers, on the scope of the W. C. T. U. work and classes on methods; 11 to 11:30 conference on "Y" plans, under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Demaree Cooper and other workers.

The early mornings and afternoons will be filled with sports and recreations for the young women, and the evenings with musicals and amusements.

The expense at the camp will be $10 for the two weeks board. Cottages have been secured to accommodate the overflow from the hotel, and all Y. P. B. members and others who are planning to attend are urged to send in their names and applications for reservations at once to Miss Minnie E. Neal, 27 E. Bay street, Jacksonville, so that definite arrangements can be completed.

The following notice concerning the conference appeared in the last issue of the Florida Good News, the official publication of the Florida state W. C. T. U.:

"Just six weeks until the 'Y' conference in Coronado! Everybody who is interested in the young women of Florida should come and lend a hand. In no other state in the Union is the encampment plan so splendidly carried out as in Florida. This year you are to come to Coronado-by-the-Sea, a place unsurpassed in natural beauty. With the famous Indian river on one side and the old Atlantic on the other, Coronado offers attractions that no other place can. The bathing in the surf and swimming in the river is unusually safe since there is very little undertow in either place. Swimming teachers and rowing teachers will do all in their power to teach the girls to be at ease in the water. Life savers have also been provided for and no girl will be allowed to go out beyond the life line. There will be picnics and excursions and long hikes to Mosquito Inlet, Red Shell and Turtle Mound. The New Smyrna Y. P. B. promises to charter a boat one day and take the whole party down the river to the famous Turtle Mound. A picnic dinner will be served that day.

"The Coronado club will furnish their tennis court and croquet grounds free of charge to all. The citizens of New Smyrna and Coronado will provide automobiles for sight seeing to all who may come. Mrs. Mable Quam-Stevens is to be with us during the entire camp and Mrs. Stevens alone would make the camp worth your while, but there are others who will be here to help train and instruct the girls along the lines of character building and culture. Indeed, a rare program is being prepared. The people of Coronado will receive you with open arms. Plan now to come and make your reservation early."

Mrs. Evelyn D. Cooper of Coronado, Florida "Y" secretary, has sent the following notice:

"The citizens and friends of Coronado are expecting a large delegation from every 'Y' and W. C. T. U. in the state at the 'Y' camp and conference in June. With the wonderful old ocean on one side and the famous Indian river on the other, Coronado

THE FLAG CODE

(Prepared from National Code of D. A. R.)

Use: Forbidden abuse.
The American flag is the symbol of the brotherhood of man. It stands for courage, for chivalry, for generosity, and honor. No hand must touch it roughly; no hand shall touch it irreverently. Its position is aloft, to float over its children, uplifting their eyes and hearts, by its glowing colors and splendid promise; for under the Stars and Stripes are opportunities unknown to any other nation of the world.

The government commands the people to honor their flag. When the national colors are passing with the vivid stripes which represent the life blood of brave men, and the stars which shall shine on forever, the spectator should, if walking, halt; if sitting, arise, stand at attention and uncover. Displayed with other flags, the national flag should be placed on the right. It must be raised at sunrise, lowered at sunset. It may not be used as a staff, a whip, or a covering.

It shall not be marred by advertisement, nor desecrated on the stage. It was born in tears and blood; it was baptized in blood and tears. It has floated since June 14, 1777, over a country of benevolence, refuge and progress.

It must always be carried upright.
To bear the Star Spangled Banner is an honor; to own one a sacred trust.

It is the emblem of Freedom, of Equality, of Justice for every person and creature as it floats unvanquished—untarnished, over the open door of free education.

SCHOOL BUILDING TO BE FORMALLY OPENED

PLANS FOR EXERCISES AND IN-TERESTING PROGRAM NOW BE-ING PREPARED BY PARENT-
TEACHER CLUB.

Plans for a formal opening of the new public school building are being made by the members of the Parent-Teacher club, and the exercises and program will be given as soon as the building has been turned over by the contractors and formally accepted by the county school board.

The structure is practically completed now and it is hoped the necessary furniture will arrive within a short time. Definite plans for the opening exercises have not been fully perfected by the Parent-Teacher club, but an interesting program is now being prepared and the general arrangements for the affair have been placed in the hands of committees.

It is expected the building will be furnished sufficiently to permit the graduating exercises of the eighth grade and high school in the new auditorium, although no effort will be made to move into the new structure until the close of the school year.

recruit a company here to be held in readiness for the call of duty, were adopted at a mass meeting of the colored people of New Smyrna, held in the colored Baptist church Wednesday night.

There was a large attendance of the colored residents and all present were enthusiastic in pledging their loyalty and support to the federal government. All of the colored pastors were present, to address the gathering, which was presided over by Principal Murray of the colored school.

The meeting was addressed by Rev. Robert A. George, pastor of the Congregational church, who explained to them the principals involved in the present declaration of war, and suggested the adoption of the resolutions.

AUTOMOBILE IS GONE MAN IS ALSO MISSING

STUDEBAKER CAR BELONGING
TO I. N. NEWELL DISAPPEARS
THURSDAY NIGHT AND CAN
NOT BE LOCATED.

A Studebaker, seven-passenger automobile, belonging to I. N. Newell has disappeared, with every indication that the machine was stolen sometime during last Thursday night, and up to this time no trace of the missing car has been found. The car was kept in the Magnolia garage and E. C. Abbott, a young man who has been employed in the garage, is also gone. Authorities are trying to locate the car and are also trying to locate Abbott in the hope that he may be able to throw some light on the disappearance of the machine.

As soon as the loss was discovered, Mr. Newell started north in his Jeffrey automobile to see if he could find any trace of the Studebaker. It is said that at a garage in St. Augustine he learned that a Studebaker car of the description given had been stopped there for gasoline early Friday morning, being driven by a man, answering Abbott's description. In Jacksonville it was learned that a car answering the description had stopped there for gasoline, but then all trace was lost.

Mr. Newell has notified the authorities in all sections of the country to be on the watch for the car.

It is said that Abbott was in Daytona the early part of the night on which the automobile disappeared and that Saturday a restaurant man of Daytona was here looking for him with a bad check, which had been given him by a man answering Abbott's description. The check is said to have been drawn on the "New Smyrna Bank" for $6.

A telegram received here Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Brandt stated that a daughter was born that day to Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Hammond at Miami. Mrs. Hammond was formerly Miss Josie Brandt.

SENATE COMMITTEE WILL MEET TONIGHT

INTERESTING SESSION IS ANTICIPATED AT HEARING ON BILL FOR CREATING TURNBULL COUNTY.

Reports from Tallahassee are that a hard fight may be required to have the Turnbull county bill passed in the senate, although it is reported that indications are favorable for the passage.

The senate committee on county organizations will hold a meeting tonight to consider the bill and delegations from Daytona, Ormond, New Smyrna and Oak Hill have gone to the state capital to appear before this committee to urge a favorable report to the senate body.

Conflicting reports come from Tallahassee as to the stand Senator Alexander is taking on the bill. It is stated that the senator has promised to support the bill with his vote if it contains the three-fifths referendum clause, which means that a three-fifths majority of votes in the election will be required when the matter is referred to the people to vote on accepting or rejecting the new county. Other reports from the state capital say that Senator Alexander is opposing the bill and will use every influence to defeat it in the senate.

The bill passed the house with only one dissenting vote last Thursday. Today the state senate is to hold memorial exercises for the late Senator J. B. Conrad of Volusia county, who died while in office and the committee hearing on the Turnbull county bill has been set for tonight because of this special arrangement.

The people of the East Coast and south end sections of Volusia county are practically unanimous for the creation of Turnbull county, and every effort will be made to impress this fact upon Senator Alexander and the other members of the state senate.

It is said that strong delegations have been sent from DeLand to protest against the passage of the bill and an interesting time is anticipated at the senate committee meeting tonight.

WILSON CHAIRMAN OF NEW CHARTER BOARD

The new charter board, selected by the voters at the special election held last week Tuesday, held a meeting last Friday night and organized by selecting B. H. Wilson as chairman of the board. C. L. Dohn, city clerk, will be clerk of the board, but a stenographer will probably be employed to handle the work of transcribing the actions of the board. Plans for the work to be undertaken by the new board are now being made and active work will begin at once.

REV. R. A. GEORGE TO RETURN AS PASTOR

WILL COME BACK TO NEW SMYRNA FIRST OF OCTOBER TO RESUME HIS PASTORAL LABORS HERE.

Rev. Robert A. George, who has been pastor of the Congregational church here since last fall, has accepted the urgent call of the members of that church to return here as pastor, and he will return to New Smyrna to resume his pastoral labors here after finishing his summer chautauqua work.

Rev. Mr. George came here as pastor to remain for eight months, and will complete his contract with the local church the last of next month. He will then return to Cleveland, Ohio.

REV. ROBERT A. GEORGE

a month's rest and begin his summer chautauqua work the first of July, returning to this city as soon as his chautauqua lecture contract is completed.

There is general pleasure among the members of the Congregational church and congregation at the announcement of Rev. Mr. George that he will return here next fall.

In announcing that he will return to New Smyrna, the pastor makes the following statement:

"Some weeks ago the members and friends of this church extended to me an invitation to return next fall as your pastor for another year. This invitation, as far as I know, was hearty and unanimous and a petition to this effect was largely signed by the visiting winter residents and tourists of this place.

"I have delayed answering for a number of reasons.

"First, we were uncertain whether we would come to Florida for another year.

"Second, certain favorable openings in this state presented themselves, but these were conditioned upon ten months of service, which my summer work for at least four coming summers would not allow.

"On the other hand you have been kind to us here, which we have greatly appreciated. You have co-operated with us in every possible manner.

"Your situation here demands a permanent rather than a transient pastorate and it is a great handicap to this church to have a new minister each year. We have only gotten started in our work here and time is required to deepen and complete it.

"We are interested in the natural beauty of this place—in its historical associations, in its civic and future prosperity.

"These and many other things have led us to finally accept your kind invitation and to decide to return to you again the first of next October and labor with you in these beautiful and inspiring ministries for another year.

"We most earnestly desire your hearty co-operation and your earnest prayers that we may labor together here in the gospel under the direction of the Head of the Church, so that the interests of the kingdom of our Lord may be enlarged, and that the life of God in the hearts of men here and elsewhere may be developed, and that His will may be more and more done in our own lives and homes and church and in this place and everywhere in the world."

under four years, the child with the darkest eyes, the child with the curliest hair and the fattest child under two years.

Already assurances have been given that there will be a large number of entries in the baby show.

THIS MOTHER GAVE HER ALL
Touching Incident of Sacrifice on the Altar of Her Country's Need.

One of the touching incidents of General Lyons' march to Wilson creek was that of a Tennessee mother bringing her little boy to the captain's tent and offering him for the service of his country. The boy's father had been killed in battle and the mother and boy were alone in the world. The bright eyes and alert bearing of the little chap, for he was scarcely thirteen years of age, caught the eye of the captain and he asked what the boy could do. "I can drum," he said proudly stretching himself to his full height. And he could as the afternoon found out as he played "The Flowers of Edinborough," a most difficult piece to follow with the drum. "Madam, I'll take the boy," said the captain. The mother kissed her boy and turning to the captain said: "Bring him back, captain," and to the boy she said as she placed her hand on his eager little head, "God bless you, my boy. You're all I have left, but I give you to my country, and drum right bravely for the boys in blue." During the heavy fatiguing marches from Rolla to Springfield it was amusing to see the long-legged fitter wading through the mud with our little drummer hero mounted on his back. During the fight at Wilson creek the cheery life and brave drum beat time for the soldier boys in battle. The fight led down into a deep ravine and it was not long before our drummer boy was in the midst of the fray. That night the detail on guard duty near the ravine thought he heard faintly the sound of a drum. He listened in the moonlight and when the relief came he asked permission to go in search of the little drummer lad. He followed the sound of the drum and soon found our hero seated on the ground with his back against a tree and his faithful drum hanging on a bush. He dropped his drum sticks as the guard came up and exclaimed: "Oh, corporal, I am so glad to see you. Give me a drink," and as he turned to go to get him water, he pleaded: "Oh, don't go and leave me. I can't walk." His little legs had been shot off at the knees. Looking closer he discovered a dead soldier lying in the grass, but evidently before he died he had put a tourniquet about the stumps of the little legs. The brave lad was carried into camp and given surgical attention, but the brave little spirit went out into the brightness and glory of a duty well done and a country served even unto death.

5th National Guard
By Kenneth MacDougall

Pushers of pens and pencils,
Workers of wood and steel,
Doctors, lawyers and business men,
Answer the bugle's peal.

Hurrying through of khaki,
Rumble of wagon train,
Clatter of cavalry horses,
The Guard is called out again.

Back from the sun-baked desert,
Sweaty, short and hard,
Protecting the nation's vitals,
Is the much-knocked National Guard.

Give them the praise that's due them,
For the regular calls "em "pard," Watch out for the wives and families of the men of the National Guard.

and the Alliance and the Pallas he was swooped down upon by the flotilla under Captain Pearson which was conveying a merchant fleet. Jones prepared to meet the enemy as best he could. The British guns had long range and Paul Jones determined to fight close. He brought his ships up to the enemy until the muzzles of his guns came in contact with the enemy ships. Then ensued one of the most frenzied conflicts in the history of naval battles, continuing from seven to ten in the evening. Paul Jones' position was desperate in the extreme.
His ship was so shattered that only three guns remained effective, and he then assailed the enemy with hand grenades which falling into the Scrapis soon set her on fire. At length her magazine blew up killing all near it. Pearson commanded his officers who wanted to surrender to board the Richard which was also now ablaze in several places. But Jones and his men received them so warmly that they retreated. Pearson's crew was killed, his guns unmounted and his ship on fire and there was nothing else to do but surrender.

EARLY DAY MAIL MAN IS CLAIMED BY DEATH
Titusville Advocate.—The passing away of Capt. Henry Wilson, of Cananaval, Fla., on Saturday, April 14th, takes away from us the oldest resident of Brevard county. He was born at Pen Yan, in New York state, May 1, 1829, and was thus in his 88th year.
At the age of 16 he left home and enlisted in the U. S. army and served in the Mexican war until its close in 1847.
He was then sent to Florida and stationed at various times at Fort Dallas, Fort Brooke, Fort Clinch and Fort Pierce, in Indian war times. Part of his duty was to take the mail from Fort Pierce to New Smyrna by sail boat, and at that time three weeks was allowed for the round trip. His reminiscences of those times and of the old residents of the Indian river and their doings were deeply interesting.
After the destruction by the Seminole Indians of the lighthouse at Cape Florida, the government took precautionary measures and sent a small squad of men to protect the lighthouse at Cape Canaveral and Capt. Wilson went in charge of them. On the discontinuance of this duty he resigned and became assistant to the late Capt.
Mills O. Burnham, a friend of the late Admiral George Dewey, and on March 30, 1886, he was married to the Captain's eldest daughter, Frances Augusta, at St. Augustine, as shown by the records of the Episcopal church at that place. Thus in March, 1916, they celebrated the sixtieth anniversary
of their wedding.
At the outbreak of the Civil war,
Capt. Wilson enlisted in the Confederate army in Gainesville, and was later sent to Tallahassee and from there to Virginia, serving nearly four years, and coming home on a furlough just before peace was declared.
When the postoffice at Canaveral was established, he was appointed postmaster, and on resigning a few years since, on account of failing eyesight, had served nearly forty years and was the oldest postmaster in the United States, both in age and time of service.
He was a man of sterling honesty
and respected by all who knew him.
He leaves a widow, eight children, all living, nineteen grandchildren, and nine great-grandchildren. With the exception of his eldest son in New York, and Mrs. Robert Ransom, of St.
Augustine, his descendants all live in and near Cape Canaveral.
Captain Wilson made many visits to Titusville, where his genial face was always gladly welcomed by all his numerous friends. He will be sadly missed by his old time friends in Brevard county.

Representative Marion Jennings of Deval county has introduced a bill prohibiting the appointment of relatives to any office, great or small. The measure is a sweeping one, prohibiting relationship by blood or marriage between officials and appointive subordinates.

WHAT IS IT WORTH?

State Board of Health Bulletin

What is good health worth?

Is it worth ten cents a year, or even eleven, to every man, woman and child, white or black, in Florida to be assured that yellow fever has been banished from the state, that an active campaign in constant touch with the advance of medical science, is watching for every sign of approaching disease ready to ward it off and stop it before it reaches Florida's shore or border?

Yes, it is worth the expense to be able to go about your business undisturbed by the anxieties that used to beset Floridians twenty years ago from the fear that an epidemic of hideous disease might sweep the state any summer, knowing that these things are being watched for you by men who are always "on the job".

Is it worth a dime a year to be protected by ample warning and by free vaccine from smallpox? Is it worth the price to be able to procure at a large discount from ordinary cost, antityphoid serum, anti-malarial serum and all the antitoxins that have been discovered and proved efficacious, or have them handed to you free of cost if you haven't the price?

Everything that can possibly be measured in dollars and cents, and some things that can't, are valued by that standard. Even human life has its cash value in the courts, but that value is not its worth to the possessor, merely an estimate of its worth to his relatives after the owner has parted with it. For years the dime has approximately been the cost of every citizen of Florida of the administration of the state board of health and this cost is diminishing rather than increasing as the population grows and the available health fund remains almost stationary. The variation from the dime has been in fractions of one cent.

It is a fact that the taxpayers have contributed more than the per capita dime, but the dime is what has been spent for the legitimate purpose of health protection, for which the board was created; and the board has been perfectly honest all the way through, merely obeyed orders. The difference between the tax collections in the state for health purposes, and the totals actually spent for such purposes, and it amounts from a quarter to a third of the collections, is paid for hog cholera serum and its distribution free of cost to the farmers of the state. The expense has run as high as $30,000 in some years, for the medicine is ten times as costly as 14-year old whisky bottled in bond under the seal of the United States government.

More money is paid from the health fund for glandered animals, which have been killed when the disease is discovered and the owners are recompensed to the extent of not more than $75.00 for each animal killed for this reason. And there are other and smaller expenses that have to be paid from the health fund, and it is all paid by the direction of a state legislature that met some years ago, and this imposition on the people of Florida and on the health board has been continued by the silence or failure of subsequent legislatures to amend the order.

Of course, these expenses may be legitimate charges on the taxpayers, but they have no more to do with

United States Battleship Minnesota

There are four twelve-inch and eight eight-inch guns in the main battery of the Minnesota. This battleship displaces 16,000 tons and is 450.3 feet in length. She has a speed of 19 knots, and her officers and men number 836.

The conservation of human health in Florida than a serum-cured hog has to do with a moving picture machine. While the average taxpayer has been firm in the belief that all his half-mill tax for health purposes has been going for the protection of his home and wife and children, he has really been paying for other men's dead horses and medicine for other men's sick hogs.

Compared with the per capita charges in some other states for health conservation, Florida's dime is large. The fact confirms the claim and the compliment that Florida places a higher value on public health than some other states. Probably Florida heads the list of 48 states in its standards and methods for the education of its people. It is among the first in its distribution of preventive medicines to the population of the state, and more than this, from its geographical situation Florida is the natural gateway for the entrance of contagious diseases from the pestilential states of the Caribbean and the West Indies. The board of health has been for three decades the guard at the gate for the whole country and it has rendered a service that is not to be measured even by the almighty dollar.

Is it worth a dime apiece to us?

STEM END ROT AND SCALE INSECTS

By H. E. Stevens

Stem end rot of citrus fruits makes its first appearance in late summer or early fall when the fruit is approaching maturity. Attacks of the disease continue throughout the season, whenever favorable conditions for its development occur. It often causes considerable loss of fruits after they are packed and during shipment and storage. It is a decay of the fruit which begins at the stem end and finally involves the whole fruit. All fruits attacked by the disease are worthless. A severe dropping of fruits is usually the first indication of the disease. These drops appear yellowish at the stem end and may be somewhat softened at that point. In a few days, a small, brown or coffee-colored spot develops around the stem end and this gradually enlarges until the entire fruit is rotted. Infection takes place sometimes before the fruits drop. Where the disease is severe in trees, fruits are frequently picked that appear to be perfectly sound which later develop the decay during shipment or in storage.

Cause

Stem end rot is caused by a fungus known as Phomopsis citri. This same fungus causes melanose, which is a form of marking on the tender citrus foliage and fruits before they mature. This fungus is found in the small dead twigs and other dead wood present in the citrus tree. It is likely to be found abundantly in groves where there is much melanose, or in trees that contain much dead wood. Under certain conditions considerable injury from stem end rot may occur in such groves. A few precautions if taken early enough can prevent, in a large measure, loss from this disease.

Methods of Control

Trees infested with scale insects and containing dead wood that harbors the fungus are especially liable to have their fruits attacked by stem end rot. Such trees should be immediately freed from scale and dead wood since these are the two important factors in the development of stem end rot.

Spray for Scale Insects

It is known that the presence of scale insects favors the development of the disease. While they cannot directly cause the disease, they seem to induce a condition in the fruit whereby the rot may develop if spores of the fungus are present. Stem end rot develops more freely on fruits having a number of scale insects clustered about the stem end or under the calyx. They seem to weaken the fruit or form wounds through which the fungus enters and later causes the fruit to decay and drop. A close watch should be kept over the trees for scale insects. Where they become abundant, a thorough spraying should be made at once with some good contact insecticide, such as the soaps or oils.

It is important to kill the scales that cluster around the stem end of the fruit and particular attention should be given to cover thoroughly the fruit with the spray. This spraying may have to be repeated once or twice, according to the amount of scale insects present. The chief object should be to keep the fruit as free as possible from scale insects until the picking season.

Prune Out Dead Wood

Since the fungus which causes the disease lives in the dead twigs and branches of the citrus tree, dead wood is a condition favoring the development of stem end rot. The fungus is widely distributed throughout the citrus section and may be found in dead wood in practically any citrus tree. The fungus lives over from one season to the next in it, and is always present to cause trouble whenever suitable conditions occur, as far as possible all dead wood, small twigs as well as large branches, should be removed from the trees. By pruning out the dead wood each year the trees may be kept reasonably free from it. This will go a long way in preventing excessive loss from the disease. All prunings removed from the tree should be burned to completely destroy the fungus. In pruning out the dead wood, it is advisable to cut well back into healthy wood, making clean smooth cuts, without leaving any long projecting stubs that will die and become reinfested with the fungus. Where large cut surfaces are made, these should be painted over with an antiseptic such as Avenarius carbollinum, pine tar, liquid grafting wax, or good white lead paint.

Author of "Annie Laurie."

"Annie Laurie," according to the generally accepted story, was written by a soldier in Flanders to his ladylove at home. The writer was William Douglas, and Annie Laurie was one of the four daughters of Sir Robert Laurie of Maxwellton. Sad to relate, says the London Chronicle, Annie did not marry her ardent lover. Some say Douglas was killed in Flanders, but at all events Annie was led to the altar in 1700 by Alexander Ferguson of Craigdarroch.

A Plateau in Papua.

The most singular plateau in the world is in the island of Papua. The plateau is 9,000 feet above the sea, and there are summits towering 5,000 feet higher, but owing to the proximity of the equator the great plain is covered with luxuriant vegetation. The climate is a perpetual May, birds sing in every bush, and the only animals are a few marsupials, such as ground kangaroos and opossums. Yet this lovely region is almost deserted. The Papuans live in the sweltering coast jungles and rarely visit the uplands.

Not Afraid to Die

It is sweet and glorious to die for one's country.—Horace.

It is related that a private in the army of the Potomac was sentenced to be shot for sleeping at his post of duty. In some way word of the approaching execution came to the attention of President Lincoln, and after writing out a reprieve he called his carriage and started out to see that the reprieve did not fail to reach the poor condemned soldier. It was a broiling hot day and the ride to camp was a long one of ten miles, but the great-hearted Lincoln was bent on saving the poor soldier and he went forward. Perhaps the president later forgot the incident amid weightier cares of state, but not so the soldier. When the Third Vermont charged upon the rifle pits before Yorktown the following year the enemy poured a volley upon them. The first man to fall was William Scott of Company K, with six bullets through his body. His comrades caught him as he fell and as his life blood ebbed away, he raised to heaven amid the din of battle, the cries of the dying and the shouts of the enemy, a prayer for the president, and as he died he remarked to his comrades that Lincoln had showed he was no coward and was not afraid to die. At the burial later the chaplain narrated the circumstances to the boys who stood about with uncovered heads. He had prayed for the president and paid him a most fervid and glowing tribute with his dying breath.

One country, one constitution, one destiny.

RECORD COAL LOADING.

Uncle Sam's Plant at Cristobal is the Fastest in the World.

The goal work of the Cristobal coal loading plant at the isthmus of Panama is the subject of a report received at the war department from one of its boards, whose conclusions are that the plant fully meets the plans of the engineers and is probably the most efficient loading plant in the world. It was found that the minimum performance during the test was 1,950 tons an hour and the maximum 2,480 tons. The minimum occurred when one of the four diggers was temporarily out of commission, due to a defective bucket.

At 2,400 tons an hour the plant far exceeds the work of any other known plant for loading steamships or even of railroad loading plants. The canal collier Ulysses was loaded at the rate of 1,650 tons an hour, and 12,000 tons were put on her in eight hours. Merchant ships cannot be loaded at this rapid rate, as their hatches are too small and their bunkers are not arranged to admit of such work. This is a feature in shipbuilding that is being carefully taken care of nowadays in constructing ships that are to pass through the canal. All new United States naval colliers are so built that they can be loaded at high speed.

Garment Making in New York.

The garment making industry in New York, much before the public nowadays by reason of the efforts of the save New York committee to move its base from the retail shopping district in the Fifth avenue section, is really one of the biggest assets the city has. Some 16,000 factories are operated for tailoring, millinery, laundering and other branches of work upon garments, employing more than 300,000 persons. Their output exceeds goods valued at $500,000,000 annually, adding materially in making New York the leading manufacturing center of this country, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston and Cleveland following in the order named.

Join the Pay Up Crowd.

John D. Rockefeller often referred proudly to the fact that when he was making $25 a month he made it a point to pay all his bills promptly. He also managed to save a little money that later became the foundation of his great fortune. When you pay your bills promptly you know just where you are at. Pay up is becoming a national slogan. Cities and states have inaugurated pay up days and pay up weeks. The man who pays his bills when they are due feels better for it. There is no doubt that he makes the man he owes feel better. Do your part in the pay up campaign. Pay now.

Pay His Men Each Day.

Contractors in central Pennsylvania have solved the problem of keeping labor on the job. The force of one contractor who began paying his men off every day instead of at the end of the week was so pleased with the arrangement that it stuck by him, and other contractors have adopted the same plan. According to reports, the plan has met with success wherever tried.—Engineering Record.

Plans are being formulated by the North Florida chapter of the American Red Cross for the purchase of a life boat and life buoys to be stationed at intervals along the St. Johns river at Jacksonville.

Y. P. B. CONFERENCE TWO WEEKS IN JUNE

ANNUAL GATHERING WILL BRING
LARGE NUMBER OF YOUNG
WOMEN TO CORONADO JUNE
1ST TO 15TH.

Arrangements are being carried on at this time by the members of the New Smyrna Young People's Band for the state conference, which will be held at Coronado beginning June 1 and continuing for two weeks to June 15. This will be the first state convention or conference to be held at New Smyrna for several years, and it is expected the conference will bring the largest attendance of any that has ever been held.

Since it was decided to hold the conference at Coronado the members of the local Y. P. B. have been making the necessary arrangements and preparations for the conference. The Barber House has been leased for the two weeks and the conference sessions will be held in the Methodist church near by. All state officers and superintendents are expected to be in attendance and delegates will be here from practically every local band in the state.

Each morning from 9:30 to 10:30 o'clock will be the bible hour, conducted by Mrs. Mable Quam-Stevens, state W. C. T. U. evangelist; 10:30 to 11 there will be addresses by Miss Minnie E. Neal, state president of the W. C. T. U., and other state workers, on the scope of the W. C. T. U. work and classes on methods; 11 to 11:30 conference on "Y" plans, under the direction of Mrs. Evelyn Demaree Cooper and other workers.

The early mornings and afternoons will be filled with sports and recreations for the young women, and the evenings with musicals and amusements.

The expense at the camp will be $10 for the two weeks board. Cottages have been secured to accommodate the overflow from the hotel, and all Y. P. B. members and others who are planning to attend are urged to send in their names and applications for reservations at once to Miss Minnie E. Neal, 27 E. Bay street, Jacksonville, so that definite arrangements can be completed.

The following notice concerning the conference appeared in the last issue of the Florida Good News, the official publication of the Florida state W. C. T. U.:

"Just six weeks until the 'Y' conference in Coronado! Everybody who is interested in the young women of Florida should come and lend a hand. In no other state in the Union is the encampment plan so splendidly carried out as in Florida. This year you are to come to Coronado-by-the-Sea, a place unsurpassed in natural beauty. With the famous Indian river on one side and the old Atlantic on the other, Coronado offers attractions that no other place can. The bathing in the surf and swimming in the river is unusually safe since there is very little undertow in either place. Swimming teachers and rowing teachers will do all in their power to teach the girls to be at ease in the water. Life savers have also been provided for and no girl will be allowed to go out beyond the life line. There will be picnics and excursions and long hikes to Mosquito Inlet, Red Shell and Turtle Mound. The New Smyrna Y. P. B. promises to charter a boat one day and take the whole party down the river to the famous Turtle Mound. A picnic dinner will be served that day.

"The Coronado club will furnish their tennis court and croquet grounds free of charge to all. The citizens of New Smyrna and Coronado will provide automobiles for sight seeing to all who may come. Mrs. Mable Quam-Stevens is to be with us during the entire camp and Mrs. Stevens alone would make the camp worth your while, but there are others who will be here to help train and instruct the girls along the lines of character building and culture. Indeed, a rare program is being prepared. The people of Coronado will receive you with open arms. Plan now to come and make your reservation early."

Mrs. Evelyn D. Cooper of Coronado, Florida "Y" secretary, has sent the following notice:

"The citizens and friends of Coronado are expecting a large delegation from every 'Y' and W. C. T. U. in the state at the 'Y' camp and conference in June. With the wonderful old ocean on one side and the famous Indian river on the other, Coronado

CRUIT COMPANY TO BE HELD

THE FLAG CODE
(Prepared from National Code of D. A. R.)

Use: Forbidden abuse.

The American flag is the symbol of the brotherhood of man. It stands for courage, for chivalry, for generosity, and honor. No hand must touch it roughly; no hand shall touch it irreverently. Its position is aloft, to float over its children, uplifting their eyes and hearts, by its glowing colors and splendid promise; for under the Stars and Stripes are opportunities unknown to any other nation of the world.

The government commands the people to honor their flag. When the national colors are passing with the vivid stripes which represent the life blood of brave men, and the stars which shall shine on forever, the spectator should, if walking, halt; if sitting, arise, stand at attention and uncover.

Displayed with other flags, the national flag should be placed on the right. It must be raised at sunrise, lowered at sunset. It may not be used as a staff, a whip, or a covering.

It shall not be marred by advertisement, nor desecrated on the stage. It was born in tears and blood; it was baptized in blood and tears.

It has floated since June 14, 1777, over a country of benevolence, refuge and progress.

It must always be carried upright.

To bear the Star Spangled Banner is an honor; to own one a sacred trust.

It is the emblem of Freedom, of Equality, of Justice for every person and creature as it floats unvanquished—untarnished, over the open door of free education.

SCHOOL BUILDING TO BE FORMALLY OPENED

PLANS FOR EXERCISES AND IN-TERESTING PROGRAM NOW BE-ING PREPARED BY PARENT-
TEACHER CLUB.

Plans for a formal opening of the new public school building are being made by the members of the Parent-Teacher club, and the exercises and program will be given as soon as the building has been turned over by the contractors and formally accepted by the county school board.

The structure is practically completed now and it is hoped the necessary furniture will arrive within a short time. Definite plans for the opening exercises have not been fully perfected by the Parent-Teacher club, but an interesting program is now being prepared and the general arrangements for the affair have been placed in the hands of committees.

It is expected the building will be furnished sufficiently to permit the graduating exercises of the eighth grade and high school in the new auditorium, although no effort will be made to move into the new structure until the close of the school year.

recruit a company here to be held in readiness for the call of duty, were adopted at a mass meeting of the colored people of New Smyrna, held in the colored Baptist church Wednesday night.

There was a large attendance of the colored residents and all present were enthusiastic in pledging their loyalty and support to the federal government. All of the colored pastors were present, to address the gathering, which was presided over by Principal Murray of the colored school.

The meeting was addressed by Rev. Robert A. George, pastor of the Congregational church, who explained to them the principles involved in the present declaration of war, and suggested the adoption of the resolutions.

AUTOMOBILE IS GONE MAN IS ALSO MISSING

STUDEBAKER CAR BELONGING
TO I. N. NEWELL DISAPPEARS
THURSDAY NIGHT AND CAN
NOT BE LOCATED.

A Studebaker, seven-passenger automobile, belonging to I. N. Newell has disappeared, with every indication that the machine was stolen sometime during last Thursday night, and up to this time no trace of the missing car has been found. The car was kept in the Magnolia garage and E. C. Abbott, a young man who has been employed in the garage, is also gone. Authorities are trying to locate the car and are also trying to locate Abbott in the hope that he may be able to throw some light on the disappearance of the machine.

As soon as the loss was discovered, Mr. Newell started north in his Jeffrey automobile to see if he could find any trace of the Studebaker. It is said that at a garage in St. Augustine he learned that a Studebaker car of the description given had been stopped there for gasoline early Friday morning, being driven by a man, answering Abbott's description. In Jacksonville it was learned that a car answering the description had stopped there for gasoline, but then all trace was lost.

Mr. Newell has notified the authorities in all sections of the country to be on the watch for the car.

It is said that Abbott was in Daytona the early part of the night on which the automobile disappeared and that Saturday a restaurant man of Daytona was here looking for him with a bad check, which had been given him by a man answering Abbott's description. The check is said to have been drawn on the "New Smyrna Bank" for $6.

A telegram received here Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Brandt stated that a daughter was born that day to Mr. and Mrs. Lisle Hammond at Miami. Mrs. Hammond was formerly Miss Josie Brandt.

SENATE COMMITTEE WILL MEET TONIGHT

INTERESTING SESSION IS ANTIC-IPATED AT HEARING ON BILL
FOR CREATING TURNBULL COUNTY.

Reports from Tallahassee are that a hard fight may be required to have the Turnbull county bill passed in the senate, although it is reported that indications are favorable for the passage.

The senate committee on county organizations will hold a meeting tonight to consider the bill and delegations from Daytona, Ormond, New Smyrna and Oak Hill have gone to the state capital to appear before this committee to urge a favorable report to the senate body.

Conflicting reports come from Tallahassee as to the stand Senator Alexander is taking on the bill. It is stated that the senator has promised to support the bill with his vote if it contains the three-fifths referendum clause, which means that a three-fifths majority of votes in the election will be required when the matter is referred to the people to vote on accepting or rejecting the new county. Other reports from the state capital say that Senator Alexander is opposing the bill and will use every influence to defeat it in the senate.

The bill passed the house with only one dissenting vote last Thursday. Today the state senate is to hold memorial exercises for the late Senator J. B. Conrad of Volusia county, who died while in office and the committee hearing on the Turnbull county bill has been set for tonight because of this special arrangement.

The people of the East Coast and south end sections of Volusia county are practically unanimous for the creation of Turnbull county, and every effort will be made to impress this fact upon Senator Alexander and the other members of the state senate.

It is said that strong delegations have been sent from DeLand to protest against the passage of the bill and an interesting time is anticipated at the senate committee meeting tonight.

WILSON CHAIRMAN OF NEW CHARTER BOARD

The new charter board, selected by the voters at the special election held last week Tuesday, held a meeting last Friday night and organized by selecting B. H. Wilson as chairman of the board. C. L. Dohn, city clerk, will be clerk of the board, but a stenographer will probably be employed to handle the work of transcribing the actions of the board. Plans for the work to be undertaken by the new board are now being made and active work will begin at once.

BABY WEEK AROUSING MUCH INTEREST HERE

REV. R. A. GEORGE TO RETURN AS PASTOR

WILL COME BACK TO NEW SMYRNA FIRST OF OCTOBER TO RESUME HIS PASTORAL LABORS HERE.

Rev. Robert A. George, who has been pastor of the Congregational church here since last fall, has accepted the urgent call of the members of that church to return here as pastor, and he will return to New Smyrna to resume his pastoral labors here after finishing his summer chautauqua work.

Rev. Mr. George came here as pastor to remain for eight months, and will complete his contract with the local church the last of next month. He will then return to Cleveland for a month's rest and begin his summer chautauqua work the first of July, returning to this city as soon as his chautauqua lecture contract is completed.

There is general pleasure among the members of the Congregational church and congregation at the announcement of Rev. Mr. George that he will return here next fall.

In announcing that he will return to New Smyrna, the pastor makes the following statement:

"Some weeks ago the members and friends of this church extended to me an invitation to return next fall as your pastor for another year. This invitation, as far as I know, was hearty and unanimous and a petition to this effect was largely signed by the visiting winter residents and tourists of this place.

"I have delayed answering for a number of reasons.

"First, we were uncertain whether we would come to Florida for another year.

"Second, certain favorable openings in this state presented themselves, but these were conditioned upon ten months of service, which my summer work for at least four coming summers would not allow.

"On the other hand you have been kind to us here, which we have greatly appreciated. You have co-operated with us in every possible manner.

"Your situation here demands a permanent rather than a transient pastorate and it is a great handicap to this church to have a new minister each year. We have only gotten started in our work here and time is required to deepen and complete it.

"We are interested in the natural beauty of this place—in its historical associations, in its civic and future prosperity.

"These and many other things have led us to finally accept your kind invitation and to decide to return to you again the first of next October and labor with you in these beautiful and inspiring ministries for another year.

"We most earnestly desire your hearty co-operation and your earnest prayers that we may labor together here in the gospel under the direction of the Head of the Church, so that the interests of the kingdom of our Lord may be enlarged, and that the life of God in the hearts of men here and elsewhere may be developed, and that His will may be more and more done in our own lives and homes and church and in this place and everywhere in the world."

under four years, the child with the darkest eyes, the child with the curliest hair and the fattest child under two years.

Already assurances have been given that there will be a large number of entries in the baby show.

EIGHT TO ONE

Considering the wealth, population and territory, more than 90 per cent of the world is at war.

Roughly speaking, 80 per cent represents the allies and 10 per cent the central powers.

The remaining 10 per cent represent the neutrals.

The total wealth of the world is estimated at $700,000,000,000. Quite a size sum!

About $550,000,000,000 belongs to the allies, $110,000,000,000 to the central powers, $40,000,000,000 to the neutrals.

The wealth of the United States is about $250,000,000,000, nearly one-half of the total wealth of the allies; more than one-third of the total wealth of the whole world.

The total population of the world, in round numbers, is 1,750,000,000.

The allied nations have about 1,410,000,000 people, the central powers 164,000,000, the neutrals 176,000,000.

The allies control upward of 40,000,000 square miles of territory, the central powers a little less than 3,000,000 square miles, the neutrals a little less than 10,000,000 square miles.

An eastern financial publication suggests that allied airplanes drop pamphlets containing these figures among the German soldiers and the German people as one very effective way of hastening the end of the war.

Certainly, unless the Germans have entirely lost the power to think for themselves, a little study of these figures ought to impress them with the hopelessness of their condition.

And it ought to impress them with the criminal stupidity of their rulers, whose policies have forced the greater part of the civilized world to make war against them.

In the whole history of the world

there has been no tragedy more terrible than the betrayal of the German people by the rulers to whom they have given their blind devotion.—Tampa Tribune.

FAREWELL DANCE AND DINNER PLEASANT AFFAIR

What is said to have been one of the most enjoyable social affairs of the season was the farewell dance and dinner given last Friday night for John Robertson, Joe Bryan and Arthur Smith, who left Saturday morning for Jacksonville to enter the navy.

The dance was held at the Coronado Beach hotel in the early part of the evening and the dinner was served at the East Coast restaurant after the dance. For the dinner the restaurant was nicely decorated, American flags being much in evidence. A large cake, with a beautiful flag worked in the top and iced with large U. S. A. letters, was presented by Mrs. E. E. Jackson and John Robertson was designated by her as the one to cut the cake.

Attractive printed menu cards, showing American flags, and a picture of a boat carried the following farewell to the boys: "Our hearts go with you boys and our eyes will be watching you. We shall expect such conduct from you as will always make us proud to say you are from New Smyrna. The menu was as follows: Submarine concoction, tropic relishes, loaded shells, vegetable flagpole, periscopes. In sections, shore game a la navy, Irish sailor's choice, soaked canister, Dixie reminders, boiler room echoes, midshipman's dream of home, for officers only, chasers.

After the dinner a social time was enjoyed by all until the early morning train arrived, which carried the boys to Jacksonville.

Those who were present at the dance and dinner were Misses Helen Thompson, Maude Holley, Claude Montgomery, Bytha Remington, Ellice Dupon, Dorothy McKeown, Ione Neal, Cornelia Smith, Fern Hildard, Whitney Hildard, Catherine McKeown, Gladys Smith, Mary Louise Crane, Josephine Spinks, Rosalie Waldrop, Harriet Crane, Corinne Neal, Lelia Brandt, Genevieve Mathews, and Dr. B. H. C. Farr, J. N. Berry, C. W. Hawkins, Henry Paul, John Robertson, Joe Bryan, Arthur Smith, John Birch, A. K. Dilzer, Leo Baker, C. Slinkard, Francis Wilson, T. W. Scott.

Misses Courtney Entertain

At a pleasant gathering of young people at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Courtney Saturday evening, with Misses Ruth and Florice Courtney as hostesses, a delightful time was enjoyed by all present. Various games were enjoyed, hearts being the chief amusement of the evening, William Thompson being the highest and Louise Thompson receiving the consolation prize. A little dancing was enjoyed, with the music of the piano. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostesses. Those enjoying the hospitality of the Misses Courtney were Misses Louise Thompson, Lelia Brandt, Whitney Hildard, Julia Dilzer, Susie Burnette and Messrs. William Thompson, Francis Wilson, Lee Pitzer, Herbert Fuller, Carl Langford, Walter Pace and Lindsay Rowe.

Have Good Trip North

Word from C. L. Davis says they arrived safely in Sullivan, Ind., making the entire trip in their automobile. They were seven days on the road from the time they left New Smyrna until they reached Sullivan and encountered few troubles on the trip.

"BABY WEEK IN FLORIDA"

Next week has officially been set aside by Governor Sidney J. Catts as "Baby week", and has also been so designated by the government children's bureau at Washington.

"Baby week" was observed last year for the first time, and was observed in many states and hundreds of cities. This year it is expected that the week will be observed in every state in the Union, and in practically every city, town and village.

The chief purpose of "Baby week" is educational. Lectures will be given by child experts, to mothers everywhere, informing them as to how to feed and raise their babies, and free clinics will be established for the week in the large cities where mothers can take their babies for free examination, advice and treatment. It is hoped that in this way thousands of babies who otherwise might die, will be saved to our state and nation.

In Florida the Woman's clubs of the state will carry on this educational campaign, and in several cities the clinics will be established where child specialists can be consulted.

To make "Baby week in Florida" a practical success, the Children's Home Society of Florida, "Florida's Greatest Charity", will put on a campaign and appeal for good family homes for homeless, orphan, abandoned babies and other children; also an appeal for funds to conduct its state-wide work, which provides homes, care and attention for practically 1000 helpless and homeless kiddies each year; also an appeal for children's clothes, for wee babies and other children, for provisions, preserves, meats and anything that children from one day old on up can either eat, wear or enjoy.

The Children's Home Society of Florida hopes and expects to secure during "Baby week in Florida" 500 homes for homeless babies and other children. It hopes to secure $5000 to continue its great work, and hopes to secure 500 boxes, barrels and packages of children's clothes, provisions, preserves, meats, etc. The Home society appeals to every man, woman and child in Florida to take some part in the campaign and render some aid, and appeals to every church, lodge, Sunday school, public school, Woman's club, Ladies Aid society, or Missionary society or other organizations to help secure homes for children, money, clothes, or provisions.

The pastor of every church in Florida is urged by the Home society to preach an appropriate sermon in connection with "Baby week" Sunday, April 30th, just preceding the campaign.

For further details, write to or send your contribution, your application for a child, or your clothes or provisions to Marcus C. Fagg, state superintendent, 361 St. James building, Jacksonville, Florida, who will be delighted to hear from you.

Mr. Fagg has had charge of this great work for Florida's little ones in need for seven years, during which time more than four thousand babies and homeless boys and girls have received the care and attention of the society, hundreds of these little ones now being in fine family homes where they are being loved, educated, trained for service, and where God's plan, that every child should have a home and parents of its own, is being carried out.

What will you do to make "Baby week in Florida" a practical success?

Boy Scouts on Hike

Friday evening the Boy Scouts went up the river to the Wilkinson trail. Walter Chilton took his launch and Dwight Hamilton took his row boat. With the boys and their luggage the boats were filled to overflowing. The boys arrived about dark, fixed camp, had supper and a good time and then turned in for the night. Saturday the boys went to the beach, did some signalling, went bathing and had a good time generally, returning home Sunday afternoon. The boys that went were Charlie McAuley, Arthur Vande Sande, Bob Wilkinson, Louis Bouchele, Dwight Hamilton, Lester Robertson, Lester Brooker, Marshall Jones, Walter Chilton, Walter Wilson, Allen Smith, Howard Mathews, Chester Hatch, Irwin Disbennett, Louis Howell and Billie Sams. John Walker and Charlie Dismukes came up Sunday. There is a full troop of 32 boys and one or two associate scouts, but 17 seems to be about all that ever go. If the boys do not intend to take hold of the hikes and meetings, kindly let me know. Although I would be sorry to disappoint those who are doing their best, I will

It is quite evident from the number of boys seen on the streets smoking cigarettes that somebody is violating the state law by selling cigarettes to minors.

The meeting of the W. C. T. U. held last Monday afternoon in the Congregational church was one of unusual interest. Three new members were enrolled. The state superintendent of the L. T. L. reported that the legion is growing rapidly in interest and attendance. Regular meetings are held every Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. F. Green. The next meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be a mothers' meeting on Monday, May 7th. An interesting program is being prepared and all mothers are invited to attend, whether members of the union or not.

have to quit, as I only took the position because nobody else seemed to want it and because the boys claimed they wanted some one to do it. It doesn't look much like they do.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Miller have returned to their home in Millington, Ill.

A number of our ladies are planning to assist in the Red Cross work.

A light shower Monday revived vegetation, but the drinks are too far apart for the best results for growing crops.

Mr. Albough, who, with Mrs. Albough, spent a portion of two winters here some time since, and who was well acquainted with many of our people, died recently in West Milton, Ohio.

Mrs. U. S. Robinson, who formerly lived where Mrs. A. M. Smith now resides, is visiting her old friends, The Robinsons are living at Zephyr Hills. Ray is station agent at Jensen and Everett is chief engineer on one of the Clyde line boats.

There is a move on foot among the property owners along the river front south of the bridge to build seawalls and fill in their fronts. Possibly a dredge will be engaged to do the work. It is to be hoped that this plan will materialize, as the view will be much more pleasing to the eye if it is done.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hough, who have been staying for several weeks at Tribble's, left on the 18th for Hampton, Va., for a short stay before returning to their home in Frenchtown, N. J. Tuesday morning the following parties left for northern homes: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Henderson for West Milton, Ohio; Mrs. M. A. K. At the Progressive league meeting Monday night the committee of ladies to raise a flag fund reported over $45 on hand. The committee of men to get the flag pole reported the pole on the ground, as well as the posts to go in the ground. It was decided to have the flag raising exercises at 2 p. m. May 1. Mrs. Cory to have the exercises in charge. It is planned to have the school take part and every one is expected to be present and show their patriotism on the occasion.

A tornado of considerable intensity, accompanied by a heavy downpour of hail and rain, swept across the northern part of Miami, doing quite a bit of damage to fruit and crops. Several houses were unroofed and the streets were flooded with water.

THIS MOTHER GAVE HER ALL

Touching Incident of Sacrifice on the Altar of Her Country's Need.

One of the touching incidents of General Lyons' march to Wilson creek was that of a Tennessee mother bringing her little boy to the captain's tent and offering him for the service of his country. The boy's father had been killed in battle and the mother and boy were alone in the world. The bright eyes and alert bearing of the little chap, for he was scarcely thirteen years of age, caught the eye of the captain and he asked what the boy could do. "I can drum," he said proudly stretching himself to his full height. And he could as the officer found out as he played "The Flowers of Edinborough," a most difficult piece to follow with the drum. "Madam, I'll take the boy," said the captain. The mother kissed her boy and turning to the captain said: "Bring him back, captain," and to the boy she said as she placed her hand on his eager little head, "God bless you, my boy. You're all I have left, but I give you to my country, and drum right bravely for the boys in blue." During the heavy fatiguing marches from Rolla to Springfield it was amusing to see the long legged after wading through the mud with our little drummer hero mounted on his back. During the fight at Wilson creek the cheery fife and brave drum beat time for the soldier boys in battle. The fight led down into a deep ravine and it was not long before our drummer boy was in the midst of the fray. That night the detail on guard duty near the ravine thought he heard faintly the sound of a drum. He listened in the moonlight and when the relief came he asked permission to go in search of the little drummer lad. He followed the sound of the drum and soon found our hero seated on the ground with his back against a tree and his faithful drum hanging on a bush. He dropped his drum sticks as the guard came up and exclaimed: "Oh, corporal, I am so glad to see you. Give me a drink," and as he turned to go to get him water, he pleaded: "Oh, don't go and leave me. I can't walk." His little legs had been shot off at the knees. Looking closer he discovered a dead soldier lying in the grass, but evidently before he died he had put a tourniquet about the stumps of the little legs. The brave lad was carried into camp and given surgical attention, but the brave little spirit went out into the brightness and glory of a duty well done and a country served even unto death.

CLUSTER OF PATRIOTIC GEMS

Eloquent Tributes of Daniel Webster to Our Country's Needs and Greatness.

Liberty and union, now and forever, one and inseparable

Let our object be our country, our whole country, and nothing but our country.

If we are true to our country in our day and generation, and those who come after us shall be true to it also, assuredly we shall elevate her to a pitch of prosperity and happiness, of honor and power never yet reached by any nation beneath the sun.

This lovely land, this glorious liberty, these benign institutions, the dear purchase of our fathers, are ours; ours to enjoy, ours to preserve, ours to transmit. Generations past and generations to come hold us responsible for this sacred trust.

The National Guard

By Kenneth MacDonnell

Pushers of pens and pencils,
Workers of wood and steel,
Doctors, lawyers and business men,
Answer the bugle's peal.

Hurrying through of khaki,
Rumble of wagon train,
Clatter of cavalry horses,
The Guard is called out again.

Back from the sun-baked desert,
Stalwart, alert and hard,
Protecting the nation's vitals,
Is the much-knocked National Guard.

Give them the praise that's due them,
For the regular calls "yes, 'pard,"
Watch out for the wives and families
Of the men of the National Guard.

Captain Paul Jones

Of all human things nothing is more honorable, more exalted than to deserve well of one's country.—Cicero.

History pages do not relate any more heroic or thrilling story than that of the triumph won against great odds by Capt. Paul Jones, in whose veins, although not an American but a Scotchman, there flowed blood staunch and true to the American cause of liberty.

While off the coast of Scotland with the Bonhomme Richard and the Alliance and the Pallas he was swooped down upon by the flotilla under Captain Pearson which was conveying a merchant fleet. Jones prepared to meet the enemy as best he could. The British guns had long range and Paul Jones determined to fight close. He brought his ships up to the enemy until the muzzles of his guns came in contact with the enemy ships. Then ensued one of the most frenzied conflicts in the history of naval battles, continuing from seven to ten in the evening. Paul Jones' position was desperate in the extreme. His ship was so shattered that only three guns remained effective, and he then assailed the enemy with hand grenades which falling into the Scrimps soon set her on fire. At length her magazine blew up killing all near it. Pearson commanded his officers who wanted to surrender to board the Richard which was also now ablaze in several places. But Jones and his men received them so warmly that they retreated. Pearson's crew was killed his guns unmounted and his ship on fire and there was nothing else to do but surrender.

EARLY DAY MAIL MAN IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Titusville Advocate. The passing away of Capt Henry Wilson, of Canaveral Fla on Saturday April 14th takes away from us the oldest resident of Brevard county. He was born at Pen Yan in New York state, May 1, 1829, and was thus in his 88th year.

At the age of 16 he left home and enlisted in the U S army and served in the Mexican war until its close in 1847.

He was then sent to Florida and stationed at various times at Fort Dallas Fort Brooke, Fort Clinch and Fort Pierce, in Indian war times. Part of his duty was to take the mail from Fort Pierce to New Smyrna by sail boat, and at that time three weeks was allowed for the round trip. His reminiscences of those times and of the old residents of the Indian river and their doings were deeply interesting.

After the destruction by the Seminole Indians of the lighthouse at Cape Florida, the government took precautionary measures and sent a small squad of men to protect the lighthouse at Cape Canaveral and Capt Wilson went in charge of them. On the discontinuance of this duty he resigned and became assistant to the late Capt Mills O Burnham, a friend of the late Admiral George Dewey, and on March 30, 1856, he was married to the Captain's eldest daughter, Frances Augusta at St Augustine as shown by the records of the Episcopal church at that place. Thus in March, 1916 they celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding.

At the outbreak of the Civil war, Capt Wilson enlisted in the Confederate army in Gainesville, and was later sent to Tallahassee and from there to Virginia, serving nearly four years, and coming home on a furlough just before peace was declared.

When the postoffice at Canaveral was established, he was appointed postmaster, and on resigning a few years since, on account of failing eyesight, had served nearly forty years and was the oldest postmaster in the United States, both in age and time of service.

He was a man of sterling honesty and respected by all who knew him. He leaves a widow, eight children, all living, nineteen grandchildren, and nine great-grandchildren. With the exception of his eldest son in New York, and Mrs Robert Ransom, of St Augustine, his descendants all live in and near Cape Canaveral.

Captain Wilson made many visits to Titusville, where his genial face was always gladly welcomed by all his numerous friends. He will be sadly missed by his old time friends in Brevard county.

Representative Marion Jennings of Duval county has introduced a bill prohibiting the appointment of relatives to any office, great or small. The measure is a sweeping one, prohibiting relationship by blood or marriage between officials and appointive subordinates.

WHAT IS IT WORTH?

State Board of Health Bulletin

What is good health worth?

Is it worth ten cents a year, or even eleven, to every man, woman and child, white or black, in Florida to be assured that yellow fever has been banished from the state, that an active campaign in constant touch with the advance of medical science, is watching for every sign of approaching disease ready to ward it off and stop it before it reaches Florida's shore or border?

Yes, it is worth the expense to be able to go about your business undisturbed by the anxieties that used to beset Floridians twenty years ago from the fear that an epidemic of hideous disease might sweep the state any summer, knowing that these things are being watched for you by men who are always "on the job".

Is it worth a dime a year to be protected by ample warning and by free vaccine from smallpox? Is it worth the price to be able to procure at a large discount from ordinary cost, antityphoid serum, anti-malarial serum and all the antitoxins that have been discovered and proved efficacious, or have them handed to you free of cost if you haven't the price?

Everything that can possibly be measured in dollars and cents, and some things that can't, are valued by that standard. Even human life has its cash value in the courts, but that value is not its worth to the possessor, merely an estimate of its worth to his relatives after the owner has parted with it. For years the dime has approximately been the cost of every citizen of Florida of the administration of the state board of health and this cost is diminishing rather than increasing as the population grows and the available health fund remains almost stationary. The variation from the dime has been in fractions of one cent.

It is a fact that the taxpayers have contributed more than the per capita dime, but the dime is what has been spent for the legitimate purpose of health protection, for which the board was created; and the board has been perfectly honest all the way through, merely obeyed orders. The difference between the tax collections in the state for health purposes, and the totals actually spent for such purposes, and it amounts from a quarter to a third of the collections, is paid for hog cholera serum and its distribution free of cost to the farmers of the state. The expense has run as high as $30,000 in some years, for the medicine is ten times as costly as 14-year old whisky bottled in bond under the seal of the United States government.

More money is paid from the health fund for glandered animals, which have been killed when the disease is discovered and the owners are recompensed to the extent of not more than $75.00 for each animal killed for this reason. And there are other and smaller expenses that have to be paid from the health fund, and it is all paid by the direction of a state legislature that met some years ago, and this imposition on the people of Florida and on the health board has been continued by the silence or failure of subsequent legislatures to amend the order.

Of course, these expenses may be legitimate charges on the taxpayers, but they have no more to do with

There are four twelve-inch and eight eight-inch guns in the main battery of the Minnesota. This battleship displaces 10,000 tons and is 456.3 feet in length. She has a speed of 19 knots, and her officers and men number 856.

The conservation of human health in Florida than a serum-cured hog has to do with a moving picture machine. While the average taxpayer has been firm in the belief that all his half-million for health purposes has been going for the protection of his home and wife and children, he has really been paying for other men's dead horses and medicine for other men's sick hogs.

Compared with the per capita charges in some other states for health conservation, Florida's dime is large. The fact confirms the claim and the compliment that Florida places a higher value on public health than some other states. Probably Florida heads the list of 48 states in its standards and methods for the education of its people. It is among the first in its distribution of preventive medicines to the population of the state, and more than this, from its geographical situation Florida is the natural gateway for the entrance of contagious diseases from the pestilential states of the Caribbean and the West Indies. The board of health has been for three decades the guard at the gate for the whole country and it has rendered a service that is not to be measured even by the almighty dollar.

Is it worth a dime apiece to us?

STEM END ROT AND SCALE INSECTS

By H. E. Stevens

Stem end rot of citrus fruits makes its first appearance in late summer or early fall when the fruit is approaching maturity. Attacks of the disease continue throughout the season, whenever favorable conditions for its development occur. It often causes considerable loss of fruits after they are packed and during shipment and storage. It is a decay of the fruit which begins at the stem end and finally involves the whole fruit. All fruits attacked by the disease are worthless. A severe dropping of fruits is usually the first indication of the disease. These drops appear yellowish at the stem end and may be somewhat softened at that point. In a few days, a small, brown or coffee-colored spot develops around the stem end and this gradually enlarges until the entire fruit is rotted. Infection takes place sometime before the fruits drop. Where the disease is severe in trees, fruits are frequently picked that appear to be perfectly sound which later develop the decay during shipment or in storage.

Cause

Stem end rot is caused by a fungus known as Phomopsis citri. This same fungus causes melanose, which is a form of marking on the tender citrus foliage and fruits before they mature. This fungus is found in the small dead twigs and other dead wood present in the citrus trees. It is likely to be found abundantly in groves where there is much melanose, or in trees that contain much dead wood. Under certain conditions considerable injury from stem end rot may occur in such groves. A few precautions if taken early enough can prevent, in a large measure, loss from this disease.

Methods of Control

Trees infested with scale insects and containing dead wood that harbors the fungus are especially liable to have their fruits attacked by stem end rot. Such trees should be immediately freed from scale and dead wood since these are the two important factors in the development of stem end rot.

Spray for Scale Insects

It is known that the presence of scale insects favors the development of the disease. While they cannot directly cause the disease, they seem to induce a condition in the fruit whereby the rot may develop if spores of the fungus and warm humid conditions are present. Stem end rot develops more freely on fruits having a number of scale insects clustered about the stem end or under the calyx. They seem to weaken the fruit or form wounds through which the fungus enters and later causes the fruit to decay and drop. A close watch should be kept over the trees for scale insects. Where they become abundant, a thorough spraying should be made at once with some good contact insecticide, such as the soaps or oils.

It is important to kill the scales that cluster around the stem end of the fruit and particular attention should be given to cover thoroughly the fruit with the spray. This spraying may have to be repeated once or twice, according to the amount of scale insects present. The chief object should be to keep the fruit as free as possible from scale insects until the picking season.

Prune Out Dead Wood

Since the fungus which causes the disease lives in the dead twigs and branches of the citrus tree, dead wood is a condition favoring the development of stem end rot. The fungus is widely distributed throughout the citrus section and may be found in dead wood in practically any citrus tree. The fungus lives over from one season to the next in it, and is always present to cause trouble whenever suitable conditions occur, as far as possible all dead wood, small twigs as well as large branches, should be removed from the trees. By pruning out the dead wood each year the trees may be kept reasonably free from it. This will go a long way in preventing excessive loss from the disease. All prunings removed from the tree should be burned to completely destroy the fungus. In pruning out the dead wood, it is advisable to cut well back into healthy wood, making clean smooth cuts, without leaving any long projecting stubs that will die and become reinfested with the fungus. Where large cut surfaces are made, these should be painted over with an antiseptic such as Avenarius carbollum, pine tar, liquid grafting wax, or good white lead paint.

Author of "Annie Laurie."

"Annie Laurie," according to the generally accepted story, was written by a soldier in Flanders to his ladylove at home. The writer was William Douglas, and Annie Laurie was one of the four daughters of Sir Robert Laurie of Maxwellton. Sad to relate, says the London Chronicle, Annie did not marry her ardent lover. Some say Douglas was killed in Flanders, but at all events Annie was led to the altar in 1700 by Alexander Fergusson of Craigdarroch.

A Plateau in Papua.

The most singular plateau in the world is in the island of Papua. The plateau is 6,000 feet above the sea, and there are summits towering 5,000 feet higher, but owing to the proximity of the equator the great plain is covered with luxuriant vegetation. The climate is a perpetual May, birds sing in every bush, and the only animals are a few marsupials, such as ground kangaroos and opossums. Yet this lovely region is almost deserted. The Papuans live in the sweltering coast jungle and rarely visit the uplands.

Not Afraid to Die

It is sweet and glorious to die for one's country.—Horace.

It is related that a private in the army of the Potomac was sentenced to be shot for sleeping at his post of duty. In some way word of the approaching execution came to the attention of President Lincoln, and after writing out a reprieve he called his carriage and started out to see that the reprieve did not fail to reach the poor condemned soldier. It was a broiling hot day and the ride to camp was a long one of ten miles, but the great-hearted Lincoln was bent on saving the poor soldier and he went forward. Perhaps the president later forgot the incident amid weightier cares of state, but not so the soldier. When the Third Vermont charged upon the rifle pits before Yorktown the following year the enemy poured a volley upon them. The first man to fall was William Scott of Company K, with six bullets through his body. His comrades caught him as he fell and as his life blood ebbed away, he raised to heaven amid the din of battle, the cries of the dying and the shouts of the enemy, a prayer for the president, and as he died he remarked to his comrades that Lincoln had showed he was no coward and was not afraid to die. At the burial later the chaplain narrated the circumstances to the boys who stood about with uncovered heads. He had prayed for the president and paid him a most fervid and glowing tribute with his dying breath.

One country, one constitution, one destiny.

RECORD COAL LOADING.

Uncle Sam's Plant at Cristobal Is the Fastest in the World.

The good work of the Cristobal coal loading plant at the Isthmus of Panama is the subject of a report received at the war department from one of its boards, whose conclusions are that the plant fully meets the plans of the engineers and is probably the most efficient loading plant in the world. It was found that the minimum performance during the test was 1,950 tons an hour and the maximum 2,480 tons. The minimum occurred when one of the four diggers was temporarily out of commission, due to a defective bucket. At 2,400 tons an hour the plant far exceeds the work of any other known plant for loading steamships or even of railroad loading plants. The canal collier Ulysses was loaded at the rate of 1,650 tons an hour, and 12,000 tons were put on her in eight hours. Merchant ships cannot be loaded at this rapid rate, as their hatches are too small and their bunkers are not arranged to admit of such work. This is a feature in shipbuilding that is being carefully taken care of nowadays in constructing ships that are to pass through the canal. All new United States naval colliers are so built that they can be loaded at high speed.

Garment Making in New York.

The garment making industry in New York, much before the public nowadays by reason of the efforts of the save New York committee to move its base from the retail shopping district in the Fifth Avenue section, is really one of the biggest assets the city has. Some 16,000 factories are operated for tailoring, millinery, laundering and other branches of work upon garments, employing more than 300,000 persons. Their output exceeds goods valued at $500,000,000 annually, adding materially in making New York the leading manufacturing center of this country, Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston and Cleveland following in the order named.

Join the Pay Up Crowd.

John D. Rockefeller often referred proudly to the fact that when he was making $25 a month he made it a point to pay all his bills promptly. He also managed to save a little money that later became the foundation of his great fortune. When you pay your bills promptly you know just where you are at. Pay up is becoming a national slogan. Cities and states have inaugurated pay up days and pay up weeks. The man who pays his bills when they are due feels better for it. There is no doubt that he makes the man he owes feel better. Do your part in the pay up campaign. Pay now.

Pay His Men Each Day.

Contractors in central Pennsylvania have solved the problem of keeping labor on the job. The force of one contractor who began paying his men off every day instead of at the end of the week was so pleased with the arrangement that it stuck by him, and other contractors have adopted the same plan. According to reports, the plan has met with success wherever tried.—Engineering Record.

Plans are being formulated by the North Florida chapter of the American Red Cross for the purchase of a life boat and life buoys to be stationed at intervals along the St. Johns river at Jacksonville.

EIGHT TO ONE

Considering the wealth, population and territory, more than 90 per cent of the world is at war.

Roughly speaking, 80 per cent represents the allies and 10 per cent the central powers.

The remaining 10 per cent represent the neutrals.

The total wealth of the world is estimated at $700,000,000,000. Quite a sum!

About $550,000,000,000 belongs to the allies, $110,000,000,000 to the central powers, $40,000,000,000 to the neutrals.

The wealth of the United States is about $250,000,000,000, nearly one-half of the total wealth of the allies; more than one-third of the total wealth of the whole world.

The total population of the world, in round numbers, is 1,750,000,000.

The allied nations have about 1,410,000,000 people, the central powers 164,000,000, the neutrals 176,000,000.

The allies control upward of 40,000,000 square miles of territory, the central powers a little less than 3,000,000 square miles, the neutrals a little less than 10,000,000 square miles.

An eastern financial publication suggests that allied airplanes drop pamphlets containing these figures among the German soldiers and the German people as one very effective way of hastening the end of the war.

Certainly, unless the Germans have entirely lost the power to think for themselves, a little study of these figures ought to impress them with the hopelessness of their condition.

And it ought to impress them with the criminal stupidity of their rulers, whose policies have forced the greater part of the civilized world to make war against them.

In the whole history of the world

there has been no tragedy more terrible than the betrayal of the German people by the rulers to whom they have given their blind devotion.—Tampa Tribune.

FAREWELL DANCE AND

DINNER PLEASANT AFFAIR

What is said to have been one of the most enjoyable social affairs of the season was the farewell dance and dinner given last Friday night for John Robertson, Joe Bryan and Arthur Smith, who left Saturday morning for Jacksonville to enter the navy.

The dance was held at the Coronado Beach hotel in the early part of the evening and the dinner was served at the East Coast restaurant after the dance. For the dinner the restaurant was nicely decorated, American flags being much in evidence. A large cake, with a beautiful flag worked in the top and fed with large U. S. A. letters, was presented by Mrs. E. E. Jackson and John Robertson was designated by her as the one to cut the cake. Attractive printed menu cards, showing American flags, and a picture of a boat carried the following farewell to the boys: "Our hearts go with you boys and our eyes will be watching you. We shall expect such conduct from you as will always make us proud to say you are from New Smyrna. The menu was as follows: Submarine concoction, tropic relishes, loaded shells, vegetable flagpole, periscopes in sections, shore game a la navy, Irish sailor's choice, soaked canister, Dixie reminders, boiler room eclairs, midshipman's dream of home, for officers only, chasers.

After the dinner a social time was enjoyed by all until the early morning train arrived, which carried the boys to Jacksonville.

Those who were present at the dance and dinner were Misses Helen Thompson, Maude Holley, Claude Montgomery, Rhoda Remington, Ellice Dupon, Dorothy McKeown, Irene Neal, Cornelia Smith, Fern Hilliard, Whitney Hilliard, Catherine McKeown, Gladys Smith, Mary Louise Crane, Josephine Spinks, Rosalie, Waldrop, Harriet Crane, Corinne Neal, Lelia Brandt, Genevieve Mathews, and Dr. B. H. C. Farr, J. N. Berry, C. W. Hawkins, Henry Paul, John Robertson, Joe Bryan, Arthur Smith, John Birch, A. K. Dilzer, Leo Baker, C. Slinkard, Francis Wilson, T. W. Scott.

Misses Courtney Entertain

At a pleasant gathering of young people at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Courtney Saturday evening, with Misses Ruth and Florice Courtney as hostesses, a delightful time was enjoyed by all present. Various games were enjoyed, hearts being the chief amusement of the evening. William Thompson being the highest and Louise Thompson receiving the consolation prize. A little dancing was enjoyed, with the music of the piano. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by the hostesses. Those enjoying the hospitality of the Misses Courtney were Misses Louise Thompson, Lelia Brandt, Whitney Hilliard, Julia Dilzer, Susie Burnette and Messrs. William Thompson, Francis Wilson, Lee Pitzer, Herbert Fuller, Carl Langford, Walter Pace and Lindsay Rowe.

Have Good Trip North

Word from C. L. Davis says they arrived safely in Sullivan, Ind., making the entire trip in their automobile. They were seven days on the road from the time they left New Smyrna until they reached Sullivan and encountered few troubles on the trip.

"BABY WEEK IN FLORIDA"

Next week has officially been set aside by Governor Sidney J. Catts as "Baby week", and has also been so designated by the government children's bureau at Washington.

"Baby week" was observed last year for the first time, and was observed in many states and hundreds of cities. This year it is expected that the week will be observed in every state in the Union, and in practically every city, town and village.

The chief purpose of "Baby week" is educational. Lectures will be given by child experts, to mothers everywhere, informing them as to how to feed and raise their babies, and free clinics will be established for the week in the large cities where mothers can take their babies for free examination, advice and treatment. It is hoped that in this way thousands of babies who otherwise might die, will be saved to our state and nation.

In Florida the Woman's clubs of the state will carry on this educational campaign, and in several cities the clinics will be established where child specialists can be consulted.

To make "Baby week in Florida" a practical success, the Children's Home Society of Florida, "Florida's Greatest Charity", will put on a campaign and appeal for good family homes for homeless, orphan, abandoned babies and other children; also an appeal for funds to conduct its state-wide work, which provides homes, care and attention for practically 1000 helpless and homeless kiddies each year; also an appeal for children's clothes, for wee babies and other children, for provisions, preserves, meats and anything

TWO OF OUR HOMELESS KIDDIES

This paper grants this space to our society as its contribution to the success of "Baby week in Florida." What will you do?

The Children's Home Society of Florida—"Florida's Greatest Charity", 361 St. James building, Jacksonville, Florida, Marcus C. Fagg, state superintendent.

that children from one day old on up can either eat, wear or enjoy.

The Children's Home Society of Florida hopes and expects to secure during "Baby week in Florida" 500 homes for homeless babies and other children. It hopes to secure $5000 to continue its great work, and hopes to secure 500 boxes, barrels and packages of children's clothes, provisions, preserves, meats, etc. The Home society appeals to every man, woman and child in Florida to take some part in the campaign and render some aid, and appeals to every church, lodge, Sunday school, public school, Woman's club, Ladies Aid society, or Missionary society or other organizations to help secure homes for children, money, clothes, or provisions.

The pastor of every church in Florida is urged by the Home society to preach an appropriate sermon in connection with "Baby week" Sunday, April 30th, just preceding the campaign.

For further details, write to or send your contribution, your application for a child, or your clothes or provisions to Marcus C. Fagg, state superintendent, 361 St. James building, Jacksonville, Florida, who will be delighted to hear from you.

Mr. Fagg has had charge of this great work for Florida's little ones in need for seven years, during which time more than four thousand babies and homeless boys and girls have received the care and attention of the society, hundreds of these little ones now being in fine family homes where they are being loved, educated, trained for service, and where God's plan, that every child should have a home and parents of its own, is being carried out.

What will you do to make "Baby week in Florida" a practical success?

Boy Scouts on Hike

Friday evening the Boy Scouts went up the river to the Wilkinson trail. Walter Chilton took his launch and Dwight Hamilton took his row boat. With the boys and their luggage the boats were filled to overflowing. The boys arrived about dark, fixed camp, had supper and a good time and then turned in for the night. Saturday the boys went to the beach, did some signalling, went bathing and had a good time generally, returning home Sunday afternoon. The boys that went were Charlie McAuley, Arthur Vande Sande, Bob Wilkinson, Louis Bouchelle, Dwight Hamilton, Lester Robertson, Lester Brooker, Marshall Jones, Walter Chilton, Walter Wilson, Allen Smith, Howard Mathews, Chester Hatch, Irwin Disbennett, Louis Howell and Billie Sims. John Walker and Charlie Dismukes came up Sunday. There is a full troop of 32 boys and one or two associate scouts, but 17 seems to be about all that ever go. If the boys do not intend to take hold of the hikes and meetings, kindly let me know. Although I would be sorry to disappoint those who are doing their best, I will have to quit, as I only took the position because nobody else seemed to want it and because the boys claimed they wanted some one to do it. It doesn't look much like they do.

It is quite evident from the number of boys seen on the streets smoking cigarettes that somebody is violating the state law by selling cigarettes to minors.

The meeting of the W. C. T. U. held last Monday afternoon in the Congregational church was one of unusual interest. Three new members were enrolled. The state superintendent of the L. T. L. reported that the legion is growing rapidly in interest and attendance. Regular meetings are held every Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. B. F. Green. The next meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be a mothers' meeting on Monday, May 7th. An interesting program is being prepared and all mothers are invited to attend, whether members of the union or not.

Mrs. U. S. Robinson, who formerly lived where Mrs. A. M. Smith now resides, is visiting her old friends. The Robinsons are living at Zephyr Hills. Ray is station agent at Jensen and Everett is chief engineer on one of the Clyde line boats.

There is a move on foot among the property owners along the river front south of the bridge to build seawalls and fill in their fronts. Possibly a dredge will be engaged to do the work. It is to be hoped that this plan will materialize, as the view will be much more pleasing to the eye if it is done.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hough, who have been staying for several weeks at Tribble's, left on the 18th for Hampton, Va., for a short stay before returning to their home in Frenchtown, N. J. "Hon. Sidney J. Catts,

"Governor,

"Tallahassee, Fla.

"Dear Sir:

"It gives me much pleasure to acknowledge receipt of your valued communication of the 19th, inst., withdrawing the charges against me. You express the hope that 'my course as county commissioner will be straight and prosperous from this time on.' May I say to your Excellency, with all due appreciation of the difficulties which confronted you in this matter, that my course as county commissioner, as well as a private citizen, has been straight at all times in the past and that it will be thus in the future.

"Your writer, too, expresses the hope that some future day we may meet and understand each other better when those who misled Your Excellency in this very regrettable controversy, now so happily ended, have settled back into their proper places.

"I take this opportunity of thanking Your Excellency for the courtesies you extended to my personal representative, Dr. J. M. Cunningham, whom I delegated to place my case into your keeping direct, with the happy result that the whole incident is now closed.
